MARKET OVERVIEW

MIDDLETOWN, OHIO

Middletown, Ohio is a city on the rise, benefiting from its prime location within the rapidly growing Cincinnati (MSA). As development continues to move north from Cincinnati, Middletown is capturing attention as an affordable, strategically located hub for both residents and businesses. The city's access to major highways like I-75 and proximity to regional airports makes it an ideal spot for those seeking the advantages of metro connectivity without the costs and congestion of a larger city. With Cincinnati's growth steadily expanding into surrounding communities, Middletown is uniquely positioned to thrive as part of that upward trajectory.

Cincinnati's MSA offers significant benefits to the growing market in Middletown. Businesses gain access to a deep labor pool, major supply chain networks, and the economic momentum of one of the Midwest's most vibrant regions. At the same time, residents enjoy the ability to commute to Cincinnati for employment, higher education, entertainment, and healthcare, while still maintaining the ease and affordability of a smaller city. As Cincinnati continues to invest in infrastructure and regional development, Middletown is reaping the rewards through increased demand for housing, commercial space, and public services.

Beyond its ties to Cincinnati, Middletown also sits near the southern edge of the Dayton MSA, making it one of the few cities in Ohio that truly benefits from two major metro markets. This dual access provides residents and businesses with a rare level of flexibility—whether it's choosing from a broader range of career opportunities, attending events in both cities, or attracting customers from two distinct economic zones. The ability to tap into the cultural, educational, and professional assets of both metros is a key reason Middletown continues to grow as a desirable place to live and work.

At its core, Middletown remains a city rich in heritage, culture, and community spirit. The revitalized downtown, anchored by the historic Sorg Opera House and a growing arts scene, reflects a city investing in itself. Local businesses, parks along the Great Miami Riverway, and educational institutions like Miami University's regional campus add depth and character. Economically, the city is diversifying, with new commercial development and entrepreneurial activity adding momentum. As Middletown continues to connect the dots between its past and its promising future, it's becoming a dynamic and rewarding place to call home.

DUAL AGENCY

Ohio law permits a real estate agent and brokerage to represent both the seller and buyer in a real estate transaction as long as this is disclosed to both parties and they both agree. This is known as dual agency. As a dual agent, a real estate agent and brokerage represent two clients whose interests are, or at times could be, different or adverse. For this reason, the dual agent(s) may not be able to advocate on behalf of the client to the same extent the agent may have if the agent represented only one client.

As a dual agent, the agent(s) and brokerage shall:

- Treat both clients honestly;
- Disclose latent (not readily observable) material defects to the purchaser, if known by the agent(s) or brokerage;
- Provide information regarding lenders, inspectors and other professionals, if requested;
- Provide market information available from a property listing service or public records, if requested;
- Prepare and present all offers and counteroffers at the direction of the parties;
- Assist both parties in completing the steps necessary to fulfill the terms of any contract, if requested.

As a dual agent, the agent(s) and brokerage shall not:

- Disclose information that is confidential, or that would have an adverse effect on one party's position in the transaction, unless such disclosure is authorized by the client or required by law;
- Advocate or negotiate on behalf of either the buyer or seller;
- Suggest or recommend specific terms, including price, or disclose the terms or price a buyer is willing to offer or that a seller is willing to accept;
- Engage in conduct that is contrary to the instructions of either party and may not act in a biased manner on behalf of one party.

Compensation: Unless agreed otherwise, the brokerage will be compensated per the agency agreement.

Management Level Licensees: Generally, the principal broker and managers in a brokerage also represent the interests of any buyer or seller represented by an agent affiliated with that brokerage. Therefore, if both buyer and seller are represented by agents in the same brokerage, the principal broker and manager are dual agents. There are two exceptions to this. The first is where the principal broker or manager is personally representing one of the parties. The second is where the principal broker or manager is selling or buying his own real estate. These exceptions only apply if there is another principal broker or manager to supervise the other agent involved in the transaction.

Responsibilities of the Parties: The duties of the agent and brokerage in a real estate transaction do not relieve the buyer and seller from the responsibility to protect their own interests. The buyer and seller are advised to carefully read all agreements to assure that they adequately express their understanding of the transaction. The agent and brokerage are qualified to advise on real estate matters. IF LEGAL OR TAX ADVICE IS DESIRED, YOU SHOULD CONSULT THE APPROPRIATE PROFESSIONAL.

Consent: By signing on the reverse side, you acknowledge that you have read and understand this form and are giving your voluntary, informed consent to the agency relationship disclosed. If you do not agree to the agent(s) and/or brokerage acting as a dual agent, you are not required to consent to this agreement and you may either request a separate agent in the brokerage to be appointed to represent your interests or you may terminate your agency relationship and obtain representation from another brokerage.

Any questions regarding the role or responsibilities of the brokerage or its agents should be directed to: attorney or to:
